

St. Namadia of France

Commemorated on August 19

St. Namadia was the wife of St. Calminius of France. After his death in the late seventh century, she entered a convent at Marsat.

She entered into the Heavenly Kingdom in 700. She is buried alongside her husband at the abbey church in Mozac, France.

By permission of the Orthodox Church in America (www.oca.org)